Securex Agencies (K) Limited places great value on the health, safety and wellbeing of our employees, customers and the communities in which we operate. This is reflected in our commitment to responsible practices that minimise adverse health, safety and environmental impacts arising from our activities, products and services. Our aim is operations free of serious safety and health incidents.

Our Commitments

- Implement this Occupational Health and Safety policy and make it available to interested parties.
- Comply with all applicable legal requirements and other obligations relating to health and safety.
- Provide sufficient resources, expert advice, competent personnel, instruction, information and training to meet our health and safety objectives and review them as required.
- Take all reasonable measures, at every management level, to prevent personal injury, ill health, environmental damage and damage to property across the design, construction, production, transportation, operation, maintenance, decommissioning and disposal of products, services and equipment.

- Communicate this policy to all employees and persons working under Securex's control so they act responsibly to prevent harm to themselves, others, the environment and property.
- Carry out periodic risk assessments for all project activities and put control measures in place to address identified hazards.
- Monitor health and safety plans, procedures and this policy to ensure they remain relevant and effective and revise them as needed.
- Review this policy annually, or sooner if circumstances require.
